

Editorial

The journey continues....

K. Abdul Samad

Department of Dermatology and Venereology, Government Medical College, Kozhikode, Kerala, India.

Corresponding author:

K. Abdul Samad,
Department of Dermatology
and Venereology, Government
Medical College, Kozhikode, Kerala, India.

drsamad_1961@yahoo.co.in

Received : 30 August 2020
Accepted : 30 August 2020
Published : 15 October 2020

DOI:
10.25259/JSSTD_37_2020

Quick Response Code:

Dear friends,

With great pleasure we bring you, yet another issue of JSSTD (Volume 2, issue 2).

In this era of COVID-19 pandemic with a surge noted in the number of the affected individuals, dermatologists are also actively participating in the direct care of those infected with the new coronavirus. Our guest editorial brings you the experiences of a dermatologist who was there in the warfront from the initial days of the infection.

Our first invited commentary, tells you how a tertiary referral center ensured quality care to its patients, at the same time minimizing the risk of infection to patients as well as the health care workers. We have included a second invited commentary that gives an overview of the prospects for an Indian Dermatologist in the United Kingdom.

In addition, the issue contains our regular sections on review article, original article, history, letter to the editor, resident's page, and images.

We hope this issue lives up to your expectations

Thanking you,

Yours' sincerely

Dr Abdul Samad K,

Editor in Chief, JSSTD

How to cite this article: Samad KA. The journey continues.... J Skin Sex Transm Dis 2020;2(2):67.