Quick Response Code:

Dear friends,

With immense pleasure, we bring you the first issue of 2020 of JSSTD. We acknowledge the support and cooperation of IADVL office bearers, authors, and reviewers who made this possible.

From this issue, we are introducing a new category – Invited commentary. This section is not purely academic; but deals with matters of interest to our readers. Submissions will be invited from authors who have experience in respective fields. We hope you find this section worthy and interesting.

Keep on sending us quality manuscripts as you have been doing. We rely on your support to take JSSTD forwards.

I take this opportunity to request our readers to adhere to the national guidelines in this testing time of corona pandemic, so as to strengthen the fight against the infection.

Apart from invited commentary, we have included reviews, original articles, history, case reports, letters to the editor, images and resident's page in JSSTD volume 2, issue 1. Wish you a great reading experience.

Financial support and sponsorship

Nil.
